

The 15th International Workshop on Electric Power Control Centers
Reykjavik, Iceland, May 12-15, 2019

GE Experience in using Machine Learning

Renan Giovanini

Sponsors/Vendors Panel

Abstract

GE will discuss its experience in using Machine Learning to unlock value by making use of disparate data sources and applying techniques to improve the utilisation of distributed energy resources. The use case will focus on the complexities of delivery of a continuous inertia metering and forecasting system.

Please send the Abstract to dsobajic@gridengineering.com by April 12